DESCRIPTION

Walls:	Weatherboard	Roof:	Corrugated Iron
Condition:	Good	Integrity:
Original fabric:	Largely intact
Modifications:	Fibro clad rear extension

This weatherboard clad house has a hipped corrugated iron roof with a lean-to roof to the rear which covers a fibro clad extension. To the front facade there is a separate verandah roof. The verandah is enclosed with fibro to the north and has a fibro balustrade with timber batten infill above to the street (west) facade. To the south of the verandah a separate gable roof covers the main room. The flying gable has a decorative fretwork bargeboard with a pendant and a corrugated iron awning to the window below. Windows are timber framed and double hung. A simple timber post with wire mesh infill fence and centrally placed gate marks the property frontage.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This house has the aesthetic appeal of a small weatherboard cottage given it retains much of its original fabric and style such as the flying gable with the decorative bargeboard and window awning. Set close to the footpath, the place makes a high contribution to the streetscape of the locale.

MANAGEMENT CATEGORY

Management Category:	3
Level of Significance:	MODERATE SIGNIFICANCE: Important to the heritage of the locality.
Management Recommendation:	Conservation of the place is recommended. Any proposed change to the place should not unduly impact on the heritage values of the place and should retain significant fabric wherever feasible.
