Standing for council

Local Government Elections - October 2021

What is local government?

- “Grass roots” level of government
- Closest to the community
- Local governments are established by the State Government to deliver services and facilities to communities.

Why stand for council?

- Contribute to the development and well-being of your community
- Empower a sense of purpose and commitment to your community

Role and responsibilities

- Represent the interests of all electors, ratepayers and residents
- Participate in council's decision making process
- Contribute to council's strategic direction and planning with community input
- Perform other functions as directed under the Local Government Act 1995.

Values and characteristics

- Openness and transparency in decision making
- Tolerance and respect in all relationships
- Awareness of potential conflicts of interests
- Fairness in promoting community issues (consider diverse interests and needs across the community and make decisions in the best interests of the district)
- Observe principles of good governance and act with integrity

Essential skills of a councillor

- Communicate, debate and actively participate in meetings
- Enhance discussion and assist discussions to reach closure
- Develop and maintain effective working relationships
- Manage interpersonal conflicts
- Exercise independent judgement

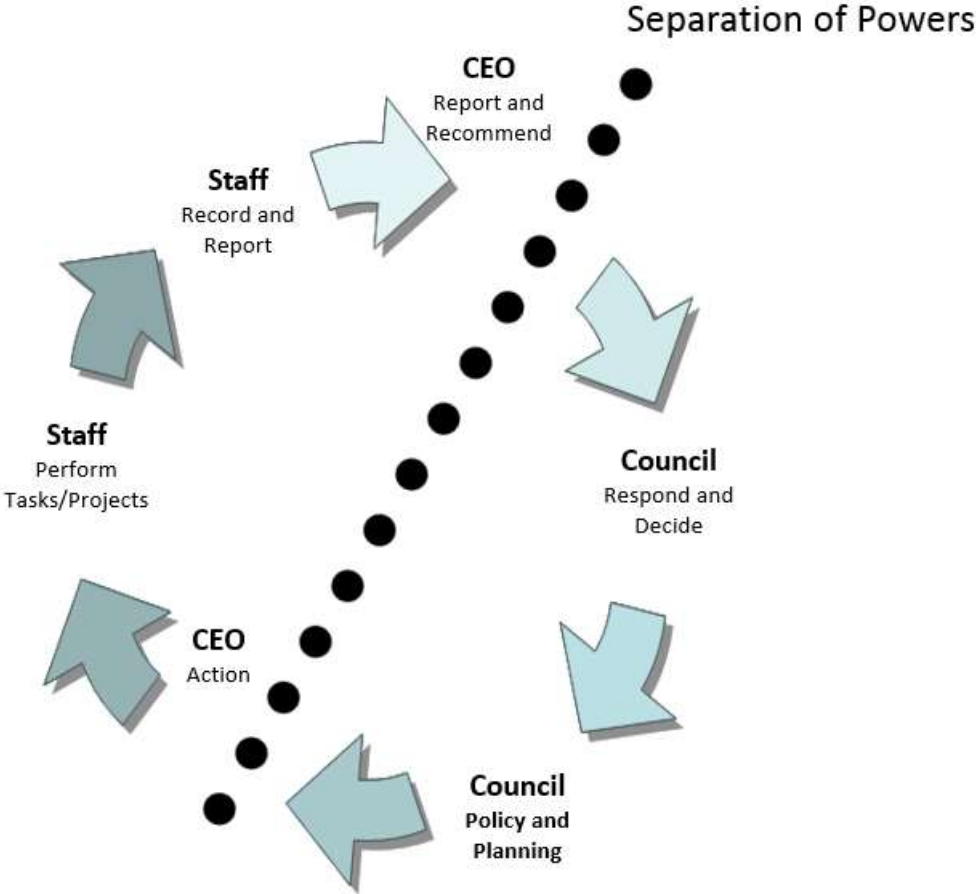

Commitment to the role

- Attend all meetings
- Listen to, and consider different points of view
- Participate in the decision making process at meetings
- Share the workload
- Networking and community consultation
- Participate in 'on the job' training and personal development opportunities

Decisions you might make as a councillor
