Uses of Place: Original Use: Police Station & Residence Current Use: Residence
Description: Walls: Weatherboard Condition: Fair Original Fabric: Highly intact Roof: CGI Integrity: Modifications: Located on the corner of Padbury and Mills Streets, but addressing the former, this timber framed building is clad with weatherboards. The corrugated iron dutch gable roof extends to cover the verandah to the front (south) elevation which is supported on timber posts. The roof also extends to cover a side verandah to the east elevation which is partly enclosed with fibro sheeting. The roovescape is punctuated by two red brick chimneys. Three doors address the Padbury Street elevation, possibly indicative of the building's former use as both a Police Station and Residence wherein separate entrances were required. There is a low metal pole and wire fence to the property boundary.
History: Construction Date: 1/01/1912 12:00:00 A Design Co: Source: Barden, W.D. Construction Co: During 1912 tenders were called for a new Police Office and Residence for Mullewa, and shortly after this the building was constructed, including a gaol. Uses of Place: Original Use: Shops Current Use: Not in use?
Description: Walls: Brick (Rendered) Condition: Good Original Fabric: Parapet detailing Roof: CGI Integrity: Modifications: Verandah form altered Prominently situated, these two adjoining shops are set back from Jose Street owing to the reorientation of the intersection with Gray Street which has resulted in a large paved area to the building frontage. The building is of rendered brick construction with a metal skillion roof. The shop fronts are dominated by large shop windows which have been boarded up. The southern shop, which comprised the newsagency, is the larger of the two, while the smaller shop front retains its original recessed entry. The original bullnosed verandah has been replaced by an unsympathetic flat awning, above which is a decorative stepped parapet. The building is painted in pastel colours (green, blue, purple and grey).
History: Construction Date: 1/01/1920 12:00:00 A Design Co: Source: Heritage Trail Construction Co: The two shops were built in the 1920s by well known local Mullewa identity Tom Haley, who operated a newsagency out of the larger store, as well as a barbers. The shop continued to operate as the town's newsagency until the mid 1990s. A drapery occupied the smaller store for many years.
Historic Theme(s): HCWA: 308 Commercial services and industries AHC: 3.19 Marketing and retailing
Statement of Significance: Tom Haley's Newsagency has historic value to the Mullewa community as a commercial premise which has operated in the town since the 1920s and is associated with a well known local identity. The place makes a positive contribution to the streetscape of Jose Street and, because of its prominent location, is an important part of the built fabric of Mullewa. Although the original verandah form has been altered, much of the decorative detailing remains to the front facade which gives the place aesthetic appeal.
Management Category: 2M Level of Significance: CONSIDERABLE SIGNIFICANCE: Very important to the heritage of the locality. Management Recommendation: Conservation of the place is highly recommended. Uses of Place: Original Use: Grave Site Current Use: Grave Site
Description: Walls: Condition: Fair Original Fabric: Largely intact Roof: Integrity: Modifications: Located opposite the Railway Station on the southern side of Maley Street is a small square piece of land surrounded by a tall metal pole and wire mesh perimeter fence. Inside is the overgrown grave of Sam Diddams. Consisting of a marble headstone and a metal grave surround, a clear view of the site was obscured by the fence and grasses covering the site.
History: Construction Date: 1/01/1895 12:00:00 A Design Co: Source: Headstone Construction Co: In the first years of settlement the town of Mullewa did not have an official graveyard. Burials were carried out on the hill overlooking the railway station and it is estimated that approximately 50 graves are located in this area. During work associated with the railway extensions, many of the grave sites were unfortunately obliterated. However, one grave remains - that of Sam Diddams, the son of the local baker who died of typhoid fever on 22 January 1895, aged 25 years. In the years that followed a Cemetery Board was established and a new cemetery (the Pioneer Cemetery) was opened on the North Road, a couple of miles to the north of Mullewa. Then in the c1950s this original cemetery was found to be unsuitable for further interments and a new one was established along the road leading from Mullewa to Mingenew.
Historic Theme(s): HCWA: 602 Early settlers AHC: 9.7.1 Dealing with human remains 9.7.3 Remembering the dead
Statement of Significance: The grave of Sam Diddams has some historic significance as remaining evidence of a larger old burial area used prior to the formal establishment of a cemetery in Mullewa.
Management Category: 3M Level of Significance: MODERATE SIGNIFICANCE: Important to the heritage of the locality. Management Recommendation: Conservation of the place is recommended.
