Greater Geraldton boasts a strong and diverse economy based on fishing, mining, agriculture and tourism. The area around Geraldton enjoys a sunny Mediterranean climate with hot, dry summers and mild winters. The cooling southerly wind keeps the temperature pleasant during the summer months, giving Geraldton its reputation as an international mecca for kite and wind surfing.

Geraldton is the major regional centre of Australia's Coral Coast overlooking the Indian Ocean and is a thriving city steeped in indigenous and pioneering history. The city has all the major services, cultural, shopping and sporting facilities you would expect in a city, yet a more relaxed pace of life, typical of the country. Geraldton is within easy driving distance to Perth, being 424km north of the State capital. It has regular air services and exports to the rest of the world via the Geraldton Port.

The Greenough area, Walkaway area and surrounding district has some of Western Australia's premier heritage buildings. The district reflects the high value agricultural land that has been farmed since its settlement over 170 years ago.

Mullewa and the surrounding district has become one of Western Australia's primary agricultural areas, with broad-acre grain farms producing in excess of 250,000 tonnes annually. The Mt Gibson iron ore mine near Talling Peak has also brought new opportunities and increased tourism to the area. Localities in the Mullewa ward include Tenindewa, Pindar, Tardun, Devils Creek, Wongoondy, Ambania, Nunierra and West Casuarinas. The strong bonds that exist within the Mullewa community make it a town of great pride, culture and history. Situated an hour's drive inland from Geraldton, Mullewa sits in the heart of the wildflower region of Western Australia and is proud to be known as the heart of wildflower country. The town is considered as the gateway to the North's vast pastoral and mining land and is well known for its beautiful church, designed and built by priest architect Monsignor John Hawes.

Social and cultural facilities and infrastructure and services are of a high standard in Greater Geraldton. Education at all levels is catered for by numerous public and private schools and tertiary institutions including Durack Institute of Technology, Batavia Coast Maritime Institute, the Geraldton Universities Centre and the Combined Universities Centre for Rural Health.

World class facilities - including the WA Museum Geraldton, Regional Art Galleries, Regional Libraries, Queens Park Theatre and Community-based Arts and Cultural Groups, among others - highlight Greater Geraldton's cultural diversity. A wide range of sporting facilities and community sports clubs also operate in Greater Geraldton.

*The City of Greater Geraldton looks forward to building on our great assets and working with our strong and dynamic community towards

WHERE WE CAME FROM

The traditional custodians of the land we now call the Mid West region consist of several language groups including the Amangu people, Naaguja people, Wajarri people, Nanda people, Badimia people and Western Desert people. Collectively known as Yamaji, this group's history in the Mid West dates back at least 40,000 to 60,000 years. Yamaji culture continues to have a strong presence in the region.

In 1839 George Grey's party conducted the first survey of the area by land, in which he observed a river "about five and twenty yard wide" which he named the "Greenough" after George Bellas Greenough, president of the Royal Geographical Society.

The area had attracted interest from Lieutenant Grey as possessing fertile farming land and presented a natural port from which to ship lead being mined in Northampton, 50km to the north.

Drawn by the areas abundant resources, Europeans first settled here in 1850, Geraldton was originally named after the then Governor of Western Australia, Sir Charles Fitzgerald.

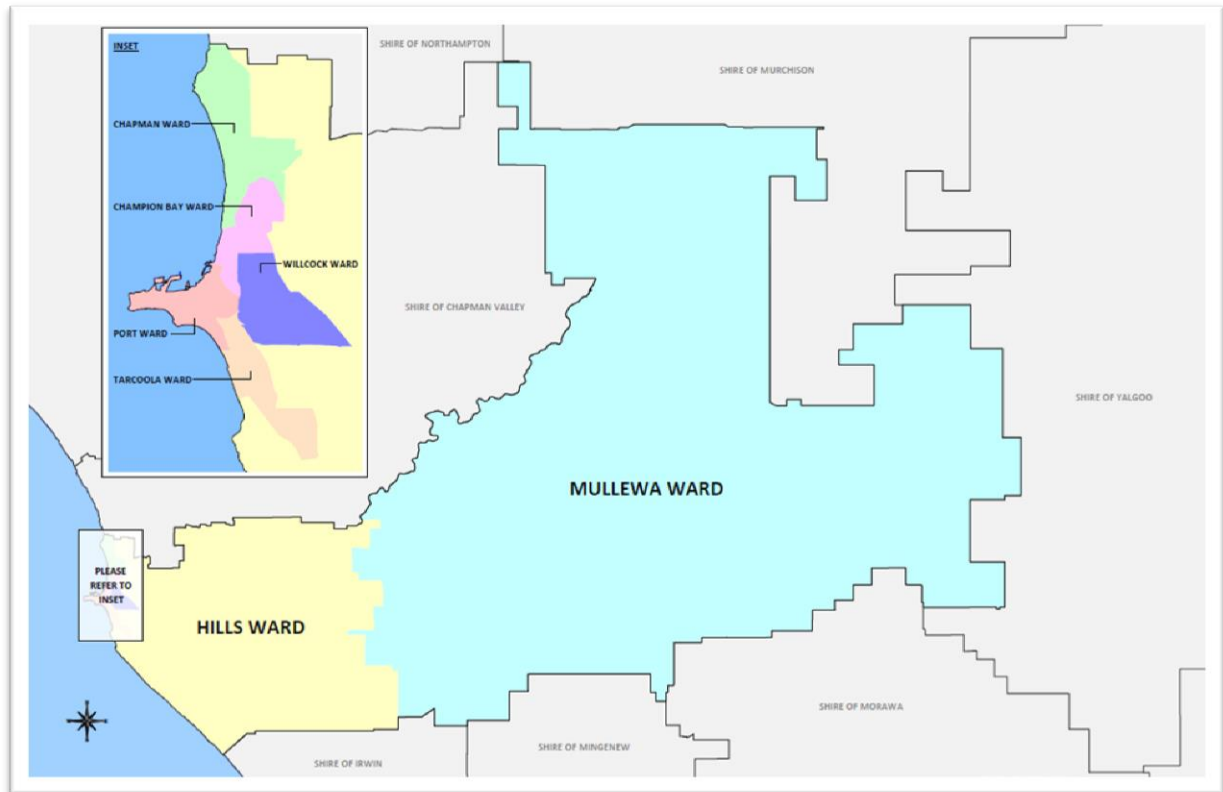

Geraldton was gazetted as a municipal district in 1871. In 1951, Geraldton and Greenough merged and in 1961 became the Shire of Geraldton-Greenough. In 1965 the locality split into two – The Town of Geraldton and the Shire of Greenough, and then later, on 22 April 1988, Geraldton attained city status.

Initially, Greenough included all of the Murchison, which parted from Greenough in 1875 and Mullewa, which formed a separate locality in 1911.

On 1 July 2007 the two steadily growing localities amalgamated once again to become City of Geraldton- Greenough. In 2011, the City joined with the Shire of Mullewa and became the current City of Greater Geraldton, a partnership which has enabled greater capacity for stronger and more effective advocacy of our community.

HOW WE ARE GOVERNED

The City of Greater Geraldton was established on 1 July 2011 with the amalgamation of the former City of Geraldton-Greenough and the Shire of Mullewa. The Greater Geraldton local government district has a total population of 40,255* and an area of 12,483 square km.

The City consists of 7 wards: Chapman, Port, Tarcoola, Hills, Willcock, Mullewa and Champion Bay and is governed by 14 Councillors and a popularly elected Mayor.

The elected Council is responsible for the delivery of good governance and the setting of local laws, policies, strategy, delegations and the budget. They are also responsible for appointing a Chief Executive Officer.

The Chief Executive Officer is responsible for all the City's operations, compliance and executive functions.

Integral to the City's operations is the 110 pieces of legislation which prescribes how we provide service to the community and in some cases, constrains our capacity to recover costs.

This plan provides direction for the region, our community and business sectors in planning for Greater Geraldton’s vibrant future.

How do we plan to achieve the community’s vision?

The Corporate Business Plan details resource capabilities such as workforce, asset and long term financial planning associated with the prioritised strategies and actions included in the plan. This plan is adopted by council and is reviewed annually.

The City's Asset Management Plans, Workforce Plan and Long Term Financial Plan ensure the management of assets and resources enabling current and forecasted future needs to be met and planned for and adequate funding resourced to support the City's progress towards achieving the community's vision.

The City's Corporate Business Plan includes workforce planning, asset management plans and long term financial planning, these informing strategies are referenced during the City's operational planning process to confirm its capacity to deliver the actions set in the Corporate Business Plan.

Council Adoption of the Greater Geraldton Strategic Community Plan 2013-2023

The consultation process used in the development of this plan was governed by the City of Greater Geraldton’s Engagement Policy principles:

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

In order to provide increased opportunity for community involvement in the decision making for the future of our region, the 2029 and Beyond Project was developed. A number of civic deliberation events were held, supported by innovative social media. These events focussed on developing a shared vision and action plan for the future that considers global, regional and local trends.

2029 and Beyond is a long-term initiative to improve sustainability in Greater Geraldton by implementing ‘deliberative democracy’ as a way of life. Deliberative democracy is a participative governance process where the community – ordinary citizens, all levels of government, industry and the non-government sector, learn and undertake new ways of cooperative problem solving and collaborative decision-making.

The year 2029 was chosen not only for the long range planning window it provides but also for its historical significance to our region. The year 2029 will be the 400 year anniversary of the abandonment of the Batavia Mutineers on the coast of Western Australia, a short distance from the City of Greater Geraldton.

To date, this engagement project has involved more than 2000 members of the Greater Geraldton community from a diverse demographic range including indigenous, youth, senior, multicultural, disabled, white collar and blue collar. This community engagement was used as the basis for the development of the City of Greater Geraldton Strategic Community Plan 2013-2023.
