The audit committee is responsible for guiding and overseeing the activities, resources and structure of the internal audit function. The audit committee's responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Assessing the internal audit plan to ensure that it covers material business risks that may threaten the achievement of strategic objectives;
- Reviewing and recommending the approval of the internal audit plan and work program;
- Reviewing the quality and timeliness of internal audit reports;
- Considering the implications of internal audit findings on the business, its risks and controls;
- Monitoring management's implementation of internal audit recommendations; and
- Monitoring the progress of the internal audit plan and work program.

The internal auditor should report functionally to the audit committee and administratively to the CEO. It should be remembered that pursuant to section 5.41 of the Act, the CEO is responsible for the day-to-day management of council activities including the direction of staff and implicitly the internal audit function.

A clear and properly defined reporting relationship ensures that the internal auditor is empowered to perform their role working with management. The direct reporting line to the audit committee also acts as an adequate safeguard in the event of a serious breakdown in internal controls or internal control culture at senior levels in the organisation.
